NUTRIMENTS

Thanks to modern pharmaceutical preparations, some nutriments, found in Traditional Peruvian Medicine, can take on a leading role in Natural Medicine.

AE - Algarroba Extract (Prosopis Pallida Peruana)

200 gr. Bottle Liquid Extract

AE an important source of energy, rich in those vitamins (E,B1,B2,B6,C) and minerals (K,Na,Ca,Mg,Fe) all of which are particularly efficient in curing physical tiredness.

AE is also essential in the diets of athletes, children suffering from lack of appetite and the elderly.

AE has a high glutamic acid content (7.54g/100g) which is one of the basic factors in intercellular junctions (Desmosoni)

AE can be used in Natural Medicine as an adjuvant in required therapies applied in order to “Strengthen” the cell matrix.

KA – KIWICHA concentrate (Amaranthus Caudatus Peruano)

100gr. Bottle- Dry Extract with Fibre

KA contains a high concentration of top quality protein with exceptionally balanced essential amino acids along with a great deal of Lysine.

Lysine is fundamental for the brain cells, particularly those which target memory and learning skills.

KA can substitute meat, milk and eggs, supply a good deal of fibre and it does not raise either the level of cholesterol or uric acid.

KA is used:

- To compensate the loss of energy stemming from physical and mental fatigue
- For constipation and obesity
- To fight cholesterol, diabetes and hypertension
